NOTICE

- Jacob Hashimoto uses the circular and X framework of a kite to design his artworks.
- He chooses 2-3 colors for each work of art.
- He thinks of unique ways to show fractured, and tiny or huge things, such as snowflakes, raindrops, clouds, star systems, or video game programs.

CREATE

- Print the design on the next page to create your own artwork inspired by Jacob Hashimoto.
- Use a pencil to plan your design. A ruler and a compass can help to create crisp outlines.
- Once your design is planned, choose two to three colors to use.
- Use markers or colored pencils to fill in each of your shapes with a bold, solid color.

EXPAND

- Create as many unique designs as you can.
- Then cut them out and hang them together to create your own installation on the wall or suspended with string from the ceiling.
